Dear Fifth Graders and Parents,

This summer, all incoming fifth graders will be required to read two novels, The Gollywhopper Games by Jody Feldman and Escape from Mr. Lemoncello's Library by Chris Grabenstein. There is not a packet of questions or a project to complete. However, we will discuss these two novels in depth when school starts. We will compare and contrast the two novels as well as look at story structure and literary devices that were used. Please have your child read attentively and make mental notes (of characters and their traits, setting, conflicts, etc.).

For math, please complete the activities on Mathletics in the following areas: multiplication of whole numbers and fractions, division of whole numbers and fractions, geometry, and data information.

We hope everyone has a wonderful and relaxing summer. We look forward to having a fantastic 2017-2018 school year with all of you.

Blessings,

Suzanne Felchak
